BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1938.

ENGINEER REPORTS HE IS WORKING ON GAS FOR BAY ST. LOUIS USERS.

Mayor G. Y. Blaize in Receipt of Correspondence—Throws Light on Progress of Project—Must Have Contract for Supply of Gas Before Building Plant.

Gas is just as important to the continued success and prosperity of Bay St. Louis as the building of a public pier and recreational center if we are going to continue our march for prosperity and permanency as a growing city and as the best place in the world where to live.

Much has been printed in the columns of The Sea Coast Echo of late regarding the proposition of Mr. F. P. Joseph, consulting engineer who has been given a contract by resolution to proceed to bring in natural gas to Bay St. Louis for domestic and general use.

However, since a somewhat long silence has ensued it was thought the project had lost its momentum as a thing to be. But such is not the case, according to correspondence received this week by Mayor G. Y. Blaize, who along with Commissioners Bourgeois and Perkins, is working hard for this accomplishment. The Board is set on getting gas for this section and if it can be accomplished they are going to do it.

The following correspondence, received by Mayor Blaize this week, is self explanatory. It will be learned the cause of temporary delay is due to a lack of definite decision as to where the gas supply is to come from. It can be had. It is possible. However, the controllers of the supply have the say. Mr. Joseph, the consulting engineer in charge of the local project, cannot move further without a definite knowledge and a binding contract for the supply.

The letters follow:

July 23, 1938.
Hon. G. Y. Blaize, Mayor,
City of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Dear Mayor Blaize: I am enclosing letter copy to H. E. Randall, of the United Gas Line, who has promised me the supply of gas for your city. I have asked them to prepare the contract for this supply before this and it appears they function thru the Jackson, Miss., office of the company.

Before I expected to get the contract but up to now I have not received same. When I get the contract proposal I will come over to the Bay and prosecute the design. I have an idea that they will serve us with gas at some point north of Gulfport.

From information I have gained it appears that Southwestern has no arrangements to sell gas thru their line at the Pass. When I get the contract from United I will go into the capacity of the line from Biloxi to the Pass which is owned by Southwestern.

However, I have some idea that residual pressures in that line may not be satisfactory. At any rate I am investigating all possibilities.

You may rest assured that I am doing everything possible the right way and am actively working on your project.

The market is shaping better now and I have had some recent inquiries on revenue bonds.

With kind personal regards to you and the Board, I am,

Very truly yours,
F. P. JOSEPH,
Consulting Engineer.

July 24, 1938.
Mr. H. E. Randall,
United Pipe Line Company,
Houston, Texas.

Dear Mr. Randall: Refer to my letter of July 5 with respect to procuring a gas supply for the City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Miss.

As stated to you it is necessary that I am assured of the supply before I can progress on this job. The people of Bay St. Louis are very anxious to get going on the project and I am desirous of progressing with my engineering.

You will can appreciate I cannot make my designs without assurance of the supply of ample gas for this community. If you will prepare the contract of purchase so I can have the same executed by the City Board and yourselves, then I can progress from the point of supply to the delivery station with the main line.

Please read this matter as the market is looking up and I want to get this job across by mid winter if possible.

Assuming you that I will appreciate your efforts, I am,

Very truly yours,
F. P. JOSEPH,
Consulting Engineer for the City of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

N.O. YOUTH LOSES LIFE O. S. TRAIL

Rodney Lea, 23, Crashes
Into Truck on Highway
Near Bay St. Louis
Sunday A. M.

Rodney Lea, 23, resident of New Orleans, on his way to the annual picnic at Gulfport of New Orleans Retail Grocers' Association with four companions, was fatally injured 12 miles from Bay St. Louis, on the Old Spanish Trail Highway, when their car collided with a truck. The truck driver and the other four were only slightly injured.

Lea was carried to Bay St. Louis and taken to the King's Daughters' Hospital, where he was attended to by Dr. M. J. Wolfe, who found him in a most serious condition, unconscious.

He was taken in the Fahey ambulance to New Orleans en route to the Charity Hospital, accompanied by Edmund F. Fahey, Jr., George Heitzmann and the driver, John Monti, Jr. Nearing the charity hospital at New Orleans, he breathed his last, it was thought. But reaching the institution, he heaved another heavy sigh and the attending physicians there declared him dead.

Lea was severely crushed. His jaw was crushed into his skull and he was otherwise badly injured. When picked up he was covered with blood, it was said. He is survived by his mother and father and other members of the family. His funeral took place in New Orleans Monday afternoon.

PASQUAL LUTZZI BURIED

Former Bay St. Louis Alderman Dies at Biloxi and Is Buried in Cedar Rest.

Pasqual Lutzzi, native of Rome, Italy, aged 84 years, who died Thursday at his home in Biloxi, was buried at Cedar Rest cemetery Friday afternoon.

Funeral ceremony took place at the late home, 215 Maple street, Biloxi, Friday afternoon, with services there and at St. Michael's church, by the Rev. Hebert Mullin, pastor, after which the body was conveyed to Bay St. Louis and taken to Cedar Rest cemetery for interment, where the Rev. Patrick Moran, church Our Lady of the Gulf, Bay St. Louis, conducted the last rites. The funeral cortege from Biloxi was joined at the local bridge terminus by a number of cars conveying local friends and relatives.

Mr. Lutzzi had been a resident of Bay St. Louis the greater part of his life, until some 17 years ago when he moved to Biloxi where he resided ever since, but always with a soft spot, as he once expressed it, for Bay St. Louis.

He was a member of the Bay St. Louis council as alderman from the Third Ward, serving a full term of two years, from April 14, 1902, succeeded in 1904 by the late R. C. Engman. He was not a candidate for re-election. He served under Mayor E. E. O'Brien, when Dr. L. H. von Gohren was alderman from Ward 1, Thos. L. Evans, alderman Ward 2, and Robert Fulton O'Brien, alderman Ward 4. Richard Mendes was then secretary, and Albert Carver was city marshal, not one of the entire number surviving.

He is survived by his wife, second marriage; his first marriage was to Miss Eva Dillman, of Bay St. Louis; a daughter, Minnie, and step children, Mrs. Buck Budnich, Elevera, August and John Hartman.

He was a man of native ability and served the city with marked ability. He was progressive, a man with initiative and a doer of things. His judgment was conservative, safe and sound. A man of wide popularity.

CHANCELLOR RUSSELL DECLARED NOMINEE BY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Group of Judicial Candidates Without Opposition—Committee Meets
At Yazoo City.

Yazoo City, Miss., July 28.—Having no opposition, 15 Democrats seeking judicial posts were declared their party nominees at a meeting of the Democratic state executive committee here Monday.

Justice Harvey McGehee of Columbia was declared the Democratic nominee for member of the supreme court from the Southern district. He is a candidate both for a one-year unexpired term of the late Justice W. H. Cook and the regular eight-year term.

The other nominees:
Chancery Judges: L. A. Smith, Sr., of Holly Springs, third district; R. W. Cutrer, Magnolia, fourth; V. J. Stricker, Jackson, fifth; T. P. Guyton, Kosciusko, sixth; D. M. Russell, Gulfport, eighth; J. L. Williams, Indianola, ninth, and Ben Stevens, Hattiesburg, tenth.

Circuit Judges: S. F. Davis, Indianola, fourth; John F. Allen, Kosciusko, fifth; Julian P. Alexander, Jackson, seventh; R. B. Anderson, Port Gibson, ninth; J. C. Shivers, Poplarville, fifteenth; John C. Stenning, DeKalb, sixteenth, and J. M. Kuykendall, Charleston, seventeenth.

Chairman Herbert Holmes of the Democratic state executive committee said no judiciary elections would be held in six counties, Issaquena, Sharkey, Humphreys, Holmes, Sunflower and Washington.

SCAFIDE TO LEAVE BAY HIGH

Local Coach Resigns to Accept "Similar" Position
With Poplarville
College.

John Scafide head coach Bay Hi, has resigned his position and accepted a similar post with Pearl River Junior College, at Poplarville, Miss., an offer he has been considering for some time.

Coach Scafide says he will leave here next month, moving his family to Poplarville. The post offers more opportunity for a wider scope of work, with older material to work with, and is reported to be of more financial advantage.

W. K. (Buster) Bosarge, of Pascagoula, is slated to be his successor. He will come to Bay St. Louis from the Glenn Allen High School in Northern Mississippi and is highly recommended. He attended high school in Pascagoula, Miss., and entered Perkinson Junior College. He finished his collegiate career at Millsaps college under T. L. Gaddy.

Coach Scafide's leaving is generally regretted. He was a general favorite as head coach at Bay Hi and in the class room as well. A graduate of Tulane University, he well qualified as an all-round scholar and athletic coach and served the Bay St. Louis school for several terms to the fullest satisfaction of all concerned. He had been re-elected for the 1938-39 term.

Coach's Record
Here is Bosarge's record. He played on Pascagoula State Champ team 4 years. Two years Perkinson Junior College, last two years under Coach T. L. Gaddy at Millsaps. He served as utility man at Perkinson and Millsaps in both backfield and line and coached for the past two years at Glenn Allen High School.

VICTIM OF FATAL CUTTING

Worthy Young Colored Man
Butt of Knife Slashing
Early Sunday Morning.

Nookie Saucier, colored man of Bay St. Louis, aged 26 years, was fatally cut shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday morning on the outside of the cafe in Railroad avenue, near corner Sycamore street, owned and operated by "Son" Labat, after the place had been closed for the night.

Forest Favre, residing in McDonough Lane, near Second street, was charged with the killing and Edward Poyadou, was arrested along with him as a possible accessory to the crime, joining in the altercation that preceded the cutting, it was said.

Witnesses held in the killing are Edgar Benoit, son of Walter Benoit, colored, as principal eye witness and E. Nichols, although neither seem to be able to give an intelligent or interpretative story of just what happened.

There are several versions to the killing, however, the one giving most credence and carrying weight is that a bandy of words arose.

The body was found in the street when officers arrived and while en route to Favre's house to make the arrest they met Favre coming in a direction from his home. He carried a small knife and said that was the one he was assaulted with and in turn took the knife away and defended himself from the attack. He carried marks of blood. A little finger was injured slightly. He asked to be taken to the hospital in order that it might be dressed but officers decided the finger was slightly scratched and such hospitalization was unnecessary.

George Heitzmann, coroner, held an inquest and rendered a verdict of death in accordance with the above. The victim of the cutting was cut from the temple down the side of the face to under the chin, about other portions of the body but fatally a deep gash in the groin, severing a main artery causing immediate death.

The Fahey Undertaking Company took charge of the body after it had been found and took it away to be prepared in order it might be "laid out."

Saucier was dead before the officers arrived, so quickly did he die from the copious loss of blood. Officers arriving on the scene included City Chief of Police Wm. T. Hobbs, Sheriff Monti, Chief Deputy Sheriff F. J. Bopp, City Officer Alcine E. Saucier, Special Officer Pasqual Piazza and Constable (Beat 5) Gerald Price. They took charge of the situation and conducted an investigation.

Favre and Poyadou were hurried away when apprehended and locked in the county jail. Favre talked very little and made it known, however, that he acted in self-defense. The knife he produced as the one used and claimed to have been taken away from the dead man, did not fit the character of cuts, it was said. The cutting was done with a sharper and possibly larger knife, was the definite opinion expressed.

The tragedy is deplorable in more ways than one. Saucier was married and the father of several children, the support of a family. He had been employed for a long time as yard man and general utility about the house at the home of County Clerk A. G. Favre, who valued his services highly. He was a favorite with the children of the home and this was a factor that added to his worth to his employer.

His mother, Sidonia Saucier, is the cook and general guardian of the children and household, a valued and trusted employee and has served the Favre family for quite a number of years. She was overcome on receipt of news of the tragedy shortly after it happened and her condition became serious.

Funeral ceremony took place Monday afternoon from the late home in Esterbrook street, followed to the Catholic Church of St. Rose de Lima, with the pastor officiating. From the church the long cortege wended its way to the cemetery, adjoining where the remains were consigned to the keeping of mother earth within the hallowed precincts of St. Mary's.

Julian Saucier was a native of Bay St. Louis, son of Julian Saucier, Sr., and of his wife, Sidonia Sabathe Saucier. He was the husband of Vivian Rochon and three children survive. An active member of the Catholic faith, he was a member of the congregation of the church of St. Rose de Lima, in Nicas avenue. The pastor, Rev. Father Holken, officiated at the house, church and cemetery in funeral ceremony.

INCLEMENT WEATHER NO DETERRENT TO CHURCH FAIR SUCCESS

Two-Day Annual Benefit
'Our Lady of the Gulf'
Scores Triumphantly.

On Saturday and Sunday last, the time set for the mid-summer festival for the benefit of the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, there arose a conflict between the legend of St. Swithin and the modern parlance of the theater. The old folks say that when rain falls on the Feast of St. Swithin, July 15th, it will rain for 40 days. The battle cry of the stage is 'the show must go on.' The fair workers were anxiously awaiting the outcome. For a while old St. Swithin had his way, and rain it did, until late in the afternoon on both days; then Providence sent good weather and 'the show went on.' In this manner the difficulty was solved and everybody happy.

The fair was a great success due to the providence of God and the great energy of the workers. It will be several days before the entire proceeds can be determined; but it is safe to say that it compares favorably with fairs of other years.

Refreshments were handled by Brother Celsus, veteran of many fairs; and we might add this was a very popular place. The cake table was decided a success due to the hard work of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Smith, Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, Mrs. Gus Soniat, Mrs. Charles Potts.

The ice cream table, with Mrs. Claud Monti and Mrs. G. W. Stevenson in charge, brought delight to the hearts of the kiddies. Miss Lucille St. Amant was in charge of the novelty table where flashy jewelry and other novelties attracted many.

At the old country store you could get anything from goldfish to goats. It was a treat to see Arthur Scalfide, Osmond Blaize, Carl Arnold, Randolph Bourgeois, C. J. Gordon and Alden Mauffray make the professional auctioneers 'look sick.'

We wondered what was the great attraction at the candy table. After a little investigation we found it was the delicious candies on display, and another important item, of lovely young ladies in charge, namely, Miss Elizabeth Fush, Miss Dorothy Viosca, Miss Gladys Viosca, Miss Shirley Viosca and Miss Marie Louise Ramelli.

The Boy Scouts, with Mr. Fred Fayard in charge, took care of the 'Nigger Babies' and the Penny Games. These games are always popular and attracted crowds. Mr. Fayard, Jr., Jos. Colson, Emile Piazza, Donald Arceneaux, Menou Arceneaux and others.

The sandwich table, as usual furnished more substantial refreshment. At this table we found Mrs. F. J. Bopp, Mrs. E. F. Fahey, Miss Lottie Cuneo, Miss A. C. Shannon and Mrs. Facienne.

The game of ringing money was under the supervision of Mr. Roger Heitzmann and Mr. C. A. Gordon; while Bro. Anselm, Joseph C. Scalfide and Edward McGee handled the new game of Movie Stars. Brother Edmund and Bro. Alexis, as usual conducted the game of comics. Mr. Bennet Reuther, Bro. David and Bro. Jake were in charge of the Beano game.

The children found a great thrill at the fish pond where Lucy and Mary Chiniche handed prize gifts to the expectant youngsters.

GENIN TO HEAD LOCAL GAR RODEO

Five Bay St. Louisians Are Named for Hancock Gar
Fight August 26-27.

Robert L. Genin, veteran fisherman and devotee of outdoor sports, has been named chairman of the executive committee from Hancock for the gar rodeo to be held by the three Coast counties, August 26-27. R. O. Bickerstaff, chairman of the committee in charge of the rodeo has appointed an executive committee composed of five members from each of the seacoast counties, Harrison, Jackson and Hancock, the first meeting of which is scheduled for Saturday morning, August 6, at the headquarters of the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the executive committee from the three counties follow:
Jackson County: A. F. McGehee, Pascagoula; Fred Moran, Ocean Springs; H. A. Cochran, Escatawpa; Cliff Dees, Vancleave; George Wood, Moss Point.

Harrison County: E. B. Coe, Biloxi; Ernest Desporte, Biloxi; J. W. Miller, Gulfport; Hannu Gardner, Gulfport; Hugh Fitzpatrick, Pass Christian.

Hancock County: R. L. Genin, Henry Osinach, Alden Mauffray, S. A. Clark, Claud Monti, all of Bay St. Louis.

Si Corley, state game and fish commissioner, has invited sportsmen and prominent persons from all over this and other states to attend the event and participate in a concerted move to rid the waters of the gar. The event is being widely advertised in sport magazines and newspapers and a large crowd is expected to participate.

All fresh water bodies tributary to the coast waters are gar-infested and the destruction of fish will, in time, it was stated, exterminate the finny tribe, so to speak.

COMMITTEES FOR NEW YEAR APPOINTED BY ROTARY CLUB HEAD

President de Montluzin Announces Personals Working Groups for 1938-39.

At regular meeting Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, held at Hotel Reed Wednesday, President Rene de Montluzin, Jr., officially announced the personnel of standing committee for the new year, namely:

- (1) Club Service, Norton Haas, Chairman.
- (a) Classification and Member-

With only two dissenting votes the Mississippi Senate passed the House-approved measure authorizing the Hancock county board of Supervisors to issue a maximum of $75,000 in bonds to pay outstanding obligations of the county. The affirmative vote was 36.

The Senate local and private committee Wednesday morning voted unanimously to make a favorable report on the bill after it had heard for more than an hour Tuesday afternoon arguments for and against the bill. Representative Lucien M. Gex, Hancock county, and Chancery Clerk A. G. Favre, advocated passage of the bill, while Edward I. Jones, attorney, and Norton Haas, Bay St. Louis, spoke in behalf of a group of tax-payers opposing it. Accompanying the opposing forces to Jackson were Harry C. Glover, Willie Green and Wilbur Driver.

In calling the bill up Chairman M. C. Young, Aberdeen, reviewed briefly the hearing before his committee, and announced that the board of supervisors had withdrawn its proceedings calling for the validation of a $45,000 issue which had been the target of a legal fight between the opposing groups. However, the withdrawal of this proposed issue does not affect the status or position of the proponents due to the fact the $45,000 proposed bond issue is included as part amount of the $75,000 issue—all with which to pay just and honest debts.

Senator Frank Pittman Neutral

While Senator Frank Pittman, Pearl River-Hancock counties, was explaining his 'neutral' position, on the bill, Sen. Rice asked him what was the objection to submitting the bond issue to a vote. Mr. Pittman said he saw no personal objections. Senator George Smith, Pass Christian, told his colleagues that unless they passed the bill Hancock county could not pay its just debts and the county would be harassed by scores of lawsuits. It was brought out at the hearing that there are a number of unpaid warrants outstanding that are in the hands of "innocent parties."

Senator Smith said if the bond issue was authorized the responsibility of paying the obligations would be on the shoulders of the board of supervisors and no one else. He said they would be liable on their respective bonds and could be punished by law if they were not paid.

Speaking on behalf of the board of Supervisors, A. G. Favre, clerk, said the board had expended money to match PWA and WPA projects in the county and that they "had something to show" for their outlay.

Something to Show for the Money.

Asserting that he did not "think these men down there have done anything wrong," Senator Robert Weems, Morton, said that the board of supervisors by its expenditures "has something to show for its money in roads, bridges, a new $40,000 jail and other public improvements."

Representing the county and board of supervisors in addition to Clerk A. G. Favre, President Charles B. Murphy and Supervisor T. Ed Keller from the Bay St. Louis Beat No. 5, were present. They had no legal representative.

The bonds will run over a period of ten years and bear 6 per cent. per annum.

- ship, Joe Scharff, vice-chairman;
- (b) Fellowship, Alden Mauffray, vice chairman;
- (c) Public Information, Chas. G. Moreau, vice chairman;
- (d) Program, Rene de Montluzin, vice chairman;
- (e) Rotary Information, Jesse Gray, vice-chairman;
- (f) Sergeant-at-Arms, Edward I. Jones;
- (2) Vocational Service—Jesse W. Gray, chairman.

- (3) International Service—Chas. J. Mitchell, chairman.
- (4) Community Service—A. G. Shear, chairman.

(a) Boy's Work, Edward I. Jones, vice chairman. (b) Crippled Children, Dr. J. A. Evans, vice chairman. (c) Civic Welfare, George R. Rea, vice chairman.

Under President de Montluzin's administration a program committee will be appointed for each month. That group to procure speakers and others to formulate the month's program. Two of such committees are announced as follows, one for each of August and September, as follows:

For August: Alden Mauffray, vice-chairman; Chas. J. Mitchell, Robert Cantors, Edward I. Jones.

For September: A. G. Shear, vice-chairman; Al Voight, Joe Scharff, George Stevenson.

CREOLE FOOD COMPANY IS LATEST INDUSTRY FOR CITY BAY ST. LOUIS

Company Obtains Charter From State to Can Famous
Creole Dishes For Which This and Orleans
Section is Famous.

Creole Food Company announces that it will have headquarters where the Sea Gull Restaurant formerly operated. This building will be used as the company's office and an experimental station for the preparation of the different recipes, and will be equipped to turn out approximately fifty cases of Creole foods every day. The company is being very careful to see that their recipes are right, and does not wish to start canning on a large scale until every detail has been carefully covered. There is much work to be done in arranging prices, announcing their products to the jobbers throughout the United States, preparing advertising matter and building up a distributing organization to handle their products.

The company has been granted a charter by the State of Mississippi and held its first meeting on July 27, at which time the board of directors were elected. Just as soon as the prospectus is received they will be distributed and the public given an opportunity to participate in what appears a proposition which has large earning possibilities.

Bay St. Louis needs payrolls and industries, and we believe all merchants and leading citizens should support this enterprise, as they will cover the entire United States and foreign countries, and the famous "Lafitte" brand on the cans and advertising matter will carry the fact that Creole foods were originated and manufactured in Bay St. Louis.

After all is said and done in what way could the citizens of the Bay spend their money in advertising which would be so far reaching as having such an article distributed throughout the country, bearing the name of Bay St. Louis on every can?

NO CHANGE IN TAX LAWS, SAYS SENATOR HARRISON.

INTERVIEWED in San Francisco, where Senator Pat Harrison is sojourning just now, while on a visit to the Golden State, Mississippi's senior senator, chairman of the senate finance committee, said in an interview there that there is little likelihood of a general revamping by the next Congress.

"There's no reason why business, from a tax standpoint, should become frightened," the Mississippi Democrat said. "There is no sentiment in congress, in my opinion, that would bring about any revamping of the tax laws that would add burdens to business."

"There is a strong sentiment in congress to help business, and I would hate to see any movement such as the recent tax study so exaggerated in the public mind as to frighten legitimate investment."

This authoritative expression, even though it is given as opinion, will afford temporary peace of mind at least, but well is it expected that the day of reckoning for the prodigious spending of public funds will come, and is inevitable.

It has been expressed by knowing minds that a federal sales tax, just as our Mississippi sales payment is in effect, will in due time be proposed and passed by Congress. It may be off a while as yet, but the prediction is to the effect it may come within the next five years.

Senator Harrison's expression is satisfying. His optimism is refreshing and will go a far way towards renewing confidence and stabilizing the public mind for the present.

AN EVENT OF MORE THAN ORDINARY INTEREST.

THE news columns of The Sea Coast Echo recently announced a two-mile championship swim for Bay St. Louis waters, to be presented under auspices of Southern Amateur Athletic Union, of which Bro. Peter, president, Stanislaus College, is president, and under sponsorship of Bay St. Louis Rotary Club.

This contest will be for men and women and will be staged Saturday afternoon of August 30. The route will extend from a point at Hotel Reed to Bennie French's tavern on the other side.

The announcement of this race comes from L. di Benedetto, secretary Southern A. A. U., and is official.

This should not only attract many contestants from various sections of this part of the country but large crowds as well. It will be possible to view the swim race from the pedestrian walk of the bi-county bridge, giving spectators an admirable point of vantage.

The Echo hopes the forthcoming contest will wake up wide-spread interest and that Bay St. Louis will be able to put the event over in great style and shape.

TWO FAMOUS FLIGHTS.

HOWARD HUGHES and his companions, in their flight around the world, not only set a new record but established a firm reputation for the reliability of American airplanes.

There is no use in discounting the Hughes' achievement because it was backed by intelligent use of money. To travel around the globe in less than four days is a monumental achievement in the development of aerial navigation, which started during the lifetime of many people in Hancock county.

The surprise flight of Douglas Corrigan across the North Atlantic, a spectacular exhibition of flying skill, combined with exceedingly good fortune, robbed the Hughes accomplishment of the front pages. The young aviator, with the patched up plane, deserves the acclaim showered upon him and nobody wishes it otherwise.

The progress of aviation is served better by the Hughes' flight although young Corrigan stirs up the imagination and helps to enthuse the populace with the glory of aerial navigation. Besides, in a world as large as our own, there is room for both types of individual daring and a mood to applaud all of the persons connected with the two flights.

COAST AS RECREATIONAL CENTER.

FOUR thousand people, members of one outing party, passed thru Bay St. Louis Sunday and spent the day in recreational pursuit at Gulfport. Many traveled by train, others by bus; many by auto.

They were members of the New Orleans Retail Grocers' Association and were attracted to Gulfport by the city's public park, pier and recreational building on the water's edge, where they enjoyed such pastimes that municipal improvement made possible.

Reports are to the effect the day was one of thorough enjoyment and left its impress not to be forgotten.

With advantages offered by the Mississippi Gulf Coast, like nowhere else, there should be any number of such outings, more frequently from the big city to the west.

Bay St. Louis, in closest proximity to New Orleans, should be the logical place for such outings, provided, however, we were able to offer the facilities Gulfport and other Coast resorts possess.

FOR BETTERMENT OF RURAL RESIDENTS.

HANCOCK county's demonstration agent, Miss Louise Peters, has returned from the annual 4-H club congress, held at State college, and is very enthusiastic with the result.

She reports there were 1281 boys and girls in attendance, representing different sections of the state, and that the group was practically busy with special educational and recreational meetings.

Miss Peters wants a 4-H club organization for Hancock and to be present at this state congress next year. She advocated more recreational activities while addressing the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club this week, stressing the point to the extent she solicited the backing of this and all other clubs and organizations in the county.

She urges such plan as to make the people happier; more content with their lot and not the dull, prosaic life that only too often prevails on the farm and thru the rural districts. To make for a happier and better home life. This done a foundation for better and more lasting things is established.

With the return of the county agent to Hancock Miss Peters feels the activities and interest created will prove of backing to her endeavors; that it will make for a more extensive co-operation and for co-ordination of interests of the folk who dwell in rural sections.

The Rotary Club will no doubt back the fair and enthusiastic county demonstration agent to the fullest extent and that such results anticipated will be realized by an early accomplishment.

BILOXI WORKS FOR WPA PROJECTS.

BILOXI is a go-getter city. Like Gulfport, it directs its efforts intensely, intelligently and secures many public improvements thru public channels.

Recently it procured a big grant of public moneys to build a community house of vast proportion of such type as to include every improvement that will appeal to the idea and convenience of both the tourists and visitor contingent as well as the home folk.

Now comes the information that the city of Biloxi is working to secure three new school buildings, a junior high and elementary school buildings of modern type under a proposal in which the government will provide $126,000 by a WPA grant and $140,000 will be secured on a loan. Commissioner John Swanzy, City Attorney Dudley Stennis and Architect John Collins were in Atlanta this week in conference with government officials relative to the project, which will be secured 45-55 basis. An act of the state legislature will be necessary to allow the loan to be made and Mayor Louis Braun has conferred with Governor Hugh White and legislators relative to the program. The increasing ratio of educable children and the condition of certain school buildings have necessitated the proposed improvement.

Biloxians are go-getters. They will get what they have set out to procure.

SENATOR IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN.

SENATOR Bilbo keeps pretty well in the limelight, regardless of what the subject may be. Suing for a divorce from his wife has kept that subject in public press quite a while. Now that he procured the divorce and made a settlement with his wife the matter, it is hoped, at least, will be kept out of the newspapers in future.

Agreeing, as a settlement for the decree that frees him from matrimonial chains, he declared at Poplarville, "Broke, broke!" when he agreed to give his wife $20,750 as a property settlement, including lawyers' fees.

The absolute divorce was granted by Chancellor Ben Stevens when Mrs. Bilbo withdrew her opposition to the Senator's suit for divorce and attorneys announced the settlement agreed upon out of court.

"I feel relieved it is all over," said Mrs. Bilbo. "I hope he is satisfied and will enjoy his freedom, as he calls it."

Attorneys said Bilbo would give about $5,000 in cash and the remainder in negotiable securities.

The couple married January 17, 1903 and have a son who is now a lieutenant in the U. S. Army. Both testified in previous court hearings that they separated when Bilbo was governor from 1928 to 1932.

Four witnesses testified for the Senator to substantiate his allegation that his wife accorded him "cruel and inhuman" treatment.

Several of them said she carried a pistol while he was governor and frequently threatened to shoot him. A court decree said the cash settlement would relieve the Senator of any and all claims Mrs. Bilbo might have on him.

HAIL GOVERNOR WHITE!

WHEN Gov. Hugh L. White proposed tax exemption for homesteads he started something, but nothing that he will not be able to finish. The legislature has had a hectic time solving the various little problems that arose as a result of such outstanding proposition. They have met with much opposition but nothing that they could not cope with.

Gov. White well knew from the outset that such proposed measure could be worked out and made to serve. The homestead exemption plan will become law, probably before this will have reached print, and it is going to be given thorough trial.

There are several ways it may be financed—to reimburse cities and counties that will lose such sums from the present method of direct taxation, but in time the matter will work out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Such tax exemption will possibly mean more to the Mississippi Gulf Coast than any other section of the State, especially since it is pre-eminently a place of residence.

ANCIENTS AND MODERNS

O. O. Emmerich in McComb Enterprise.

Think what would have happened in the years gone by if the movies had been present in history. Napoleon Bonaparte would have been the Clark Gable of his day. As it was the women flocked to the dapper little runt notwithstanding the lack of screen to glorify him.

Lady Godiva would have been offered a movie contract after she completed that famous ride on her horse. . . but the board of censors would have given the production company a little trouble. But the advance sale on that show would have been a pippin.

Robin Hood is another fellow who would have starred in the ancient movies had there been movies to star in. . . And think of the newsreel flash Christopher Columbus would have gotten on his return to Europe with a collection of red-skinned men.

Cleopatra would have been the Mae West of her day. She would have probably coined some famous slogan like "Come over and barge with me sometime." And if there had been a Walter Winchell around wouldn't he have put out a hot story on that Mark Anthony affair.

William, the Conqueror, could have put his conquests and the fans would have gone wild over him. There would have been a half dozen movie studios trying to cash in on his rough-and-ready, "bring-em-in-alive" system of attaining fame.

Pharaoh could have gotten a pretty good shake-down by selling the rights on that Moses-in-the-bull-rushes story, provided of course, that the king had been touched off to what was going on all about him. Think of the build-up they could have given little Moses. Lot of genuine sob stuff in that story.

And couldn't Joan of Arc have taken John Public for a ride. Her month to his ex-wife. Four months ago he was broke but recently had some success writing comedies.

..Hollywood Notes..

"TRAILER Romance," which was originally intended for Ginger Rogers and later switched to Ruby Keeler, has been recast with Miriam Hopkins in the lead.

Harold Lloyd may turn producer and sponsor a series of short comedies, starring W. C. Fields, if he can obtain a releasing contract for the comedies. Fields terminated his contract with Paramount two months ago.

Tyrone Power may play the title lead in "Monsieur Beaucaire" if Paramount is successful in buying it. The Booth Tarkington story was made in 1924 by Rudolph Valentino.

Another series with a comic strip as inspiration will be the "Jane Arden" series.

An exhibition of the properties used in making "Marie Antoinette" is being offered to the public in the Astor Theater, New York City, every day for a month until the showing of the film. The exhibit includes costumes worn by Norma Shearer, furniture of the Louis XVI period and jewelry.

A follow-up story of "Stage Door" will be "Stage Door Club," which will be made during the coming season.

"Curtain Call," the new name for Faith Baldwin's "Comet Over Broadway," will go into production this month with Kay Francis, Ian Hunter and John Liel having the leads. This is the story that caused a row between Bette Davis and her studio when she refused to play in it.

A picture featuring a race around the world will be rushed so as to cash in on the Howard Hughes flight. It will be entitled, "Women in the Wind."

A second of the Saint series will be "The Saint Strikes Twice," and Louis Hayward will probably continue in the title role.

Joan Woodbury, an American girl, who first appeared as a Spanish dancer, in a night club, used a ruse to get into pictures. Turned down when she applied as an American, she returned to the studio next day as a picturesque Mexican and was straight way accepted on the condition that her broken English could be understood.

Nine years ago Jack Benny did not smoke, but during his last picture he used 1500 cigars at 35 cents apiece.

It took Hollywood four years to cast Binnie Barnes in a comedy part instead of as the bad lady. Miss Barnes had been pleading for light comedy, and was almost ready to return to England in despair when good reports of her work in "Three Blind Mice," began to come in and gained her a new contract.

Joan Crawford is not allowed to have children in her plays but Norma Shearer can have as many as 2. Helen Hayes can even play the part of a great-grandmother, as she did in "Victoria Regina."

Harry Langdon is again able to pay part of the alimony due each

When one of the players in "Algiers" developed a charley horse, Alan Hale amazed the cast by rubbing out the cramp. It was then discovered that Mr. Hale was a graduate Osteopath but had never practiced his profession.

The average age of the screen lover is 37 and of the heroine, 32 years. Joan Crawford, Norma Shearer, Janet Gaynor and Jean Arthur are all in their late thirties.

Lupe Velez and her husband, Johnny Weissmuller, have taken a ten year lease on the house Jack Dempsey built for Estelle Taylor when she was his wife.

And now the secret of how actresses can wear such snug dresses without the bulges caused by garters of supporters is out. They simply tape the hose to their legs in three places and wear them that way on and off the screen.

Papa Dionne objects to the quints learning English. Mr. Dionne, by the way, has made about $50,000 on a souvenir stand which he runs across the road from them.

SHOULD NEWSPAPERS TELL THE TRUTH?

There is (or was) at least one newspaper in America that believes in telling the truth—and the whole truth—regardless of consequences. It is (or was) the Fountain Inn (S. C.) Tribune, which recently contained the following account of a local wedding: (Names are deleted.)

"This groom is a popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he got shipped in the middle of his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and keep a supply of spending money because his dad is a soft hearted old fool who takes up his bad checks instead of letting him go to jail where he belongs."

"The bride is a skinny fast little idiot who has been kissed by every boy in town since she was 12 years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, sucks cigarettes, and drinks mean corn liquor when she is out riding in her dad's car at night. She doesn't know how to cook, sew or keep house."

"The groom wore a rented dinner suit over athletic underwear of imitation silk. His pants were held up by pale green suspenders. His number 8 shoes matched his state in tightness and harmonized with the axle grease polish of his hair. In addition to his jag, he carried a pocket knife, a bunch of keys, a dun for the ring and his usual look of imbecility."

"The bride wore some kind of white thing that left most of her legs sticking out at one end and her bonny upper end sticking out at the other. The young people will make their home with the bride's parents, which means they will sponge on the old man until he dies and then she will take in washing."

"P. S.—This may be the last issue of the Tribune, but our life's ambition has been to write up one wedding and tell the unvarnished truth. Now that is done, death can have no sting."

"Did I step on your foot?" asked the big fat man as he crowded into a seat at the movies next to a pretty girl.

"It was either you are an elephant," remarked the victim.

It's Now Possible To Build—To Renovate—Your Home...

The hardship of lack of money and the more serious ordeal of paying back a loan are elements of discouragement and prevention that exist no longer.

Through an FHA (Federal Housing Association) loan, which we will get for you through the facilities of our bank, every advantage of such loan on easy and long-time payments.

Build a new house, repair or renovate a mold one; paint or otherwise improve your home, is no longer a seeming impossibility. Let our Bank help you. The government will do it. And we will help you. Let us explain.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

MEN, WHO RUN FOR BIGGER AND BETTER APPROPRIATIONS.

(Oxford Eagle—)

ONE of Mississippi's candidates for congress among other things is advocating: Cotton guarantee of 15 cents a pound.

Old age pensions. Aid for all war veterans. Federal assistance in financing state schools.

Drainage systems. Mail route roads and school bus roads kept up by the government.

Doctors, employed by the government at all hospitals for benefit of the poor.

All main line highways to be concreted or blacktopped at expense of the government.

And of course just about everything else in the way of improvements, conveniences, privileges that he and his constituents may have an idea that they would like to have.

There is nothing particularly startling in this candidate's platform. It is very similar to that of the others striving for a congressional seat. In fact every congressman up for reelection is stressing mainly things he has "been able" to obtain for his electorate and if returned to Washington will continue to make efforts to secure every possible concession for the district.

All of which leaves this writer mildly puzzled as just where are we headed? We can not reasonably expect to seek and demand more and more services from the government, and escape without an ever-increasing tax bill. We are not fooling ourselves, surely, in thinking we are getting this and that "free." Notwithstanding the apparent faith of a great many people in Washington and politicians any sane soul knows that nothing is free. The only revenue the federal government receives is through tax levied upon its citizens and all must pay a share. The theory that the rich pay the taxes likewise will not stand up. In reality it is the poor that pay them for the rich derive what they pay in taxes as well as what they have left over from the general public.

So long as we continue to insist on the government pouring out ever-increasing streams of dollars into "free" services we might as well be reasonable and become resigned to added tax burdens. There is no possible way to cut down taxes unless we reduce expenditures.

And we will never get around to reducing expenditures as long as we send to congress men who run on a platform of bigger and better appropriations. We, our children, and our grand children will have to pay for our extravagances. We know they are not self liquidating.

According to Adjutant General J. B. O'Keefe, of the national guards, some of the regular army units have already moved to Camp Shelby, near Hattiesburg, and Biloxi, and are busily engaged in arranging for the big army maneuvers to begin on July 31.

THREE STARS IN GREAT FILM DRAMA AT A. & G. THEATER

Corps of Experts Worked
Year to Perfect Plans of
"Old Chicago."

When a major film company makes a big picture it is not a one-man job, but a concerted effort by the whole studio. Personal credits are forgotten, not only by the technical staff, which does without them anyway, but also by the actors, the cameraman and the director. The picture's the thing. If it's a film one man can't handle alone—"In Old Chicago" was such a picture—then two full-fledged, experienced directors worked on it together united amicably by a common desire for perfection.

The assignment of Henry King the man who directed "The White Sister," "Romola," the famous silent version of "Tolstoy's David," the prize winning "State Fair" and "The Country Doctor," the technicolor "Ramona" and "Lloyds of London," and the veteran H. Bruce Humberstone, who directed among many other films "If I Had a Million," to work on the same picture was not made simply from a desire for novelty. On the contrary, it was necessitated by the very scope of "In Old Chicago" itself for it was the intention of Darryl F. Zanuck, vice-president in charge of production at Twentieth Century-Fox, to make a picture that told two stories at once: one of the mushroom-like, almost hectic growth of the city and its destruction by fire, and the other a poignant human story of conflict and romance in that city.

And in planning "In Old Chicago" 20th Century-Fox made ample provision for that pleasing element, personified by handsome Tyrone Power and beautiful Alice Faye, two of the players who decorate its star-studded cast.

Others in the cast of "In Old Chicago" include Don Ameche, Alice Brady, Andy Devine, Brian Donlevy, Phyllis Brooks and Sidney Blackmer, to mention a few.

In charge of the dramatic scenes was Director Henry King, Academy award winner, while H. Bruce Humberstone was assigned for the special task of filming the "special effects scenes" as the fire sequences were known.

Mrs. Mary Etta Newson, who has been Social Service Director at the Mississippi Sanatorium for the past two years, has resigned her position to go to Chicago to enter the University of Chicago.

RECENT CITY BLDG. PERMITS

Figures From Records Reveal Activity About City For Past Six Months.

The city's record book of permits to build reveals, save for one or two exceptions, no large contracts, there is, however, indication of activity in the building and improvement line. While it is taken for granted the figures herewith represent the original amount of cost for the various projects, the figures are always well doubled before building or repair work is completed. Hence we have quite an outlay of money and labor involved in the building line. And again: There are quite a number of repair jobs that fail to get to the city.

The list from official records follows, giving date, owner, builder, work and amount.

Feb. 28, 1938—Chas. V. Kehoe, self, repairs, $500.00.

Feb. 29, 1938—W. A. McDonald, John McDonald, moving bldg., $150.00.

Mar. 8, 1938—M. P. Gooden, self, repairs, $25.00.

Mar. 11, 1938—Thos. W. Muller, self, Summer Cottages, $600.00.

Mar. 11, 1938—Leon B. Barley, Jr., self, movin bldg., $30.00.

Mar. 11, 1938—Mrs. L. Medina—Lanaux and Sylvest, addition $50.00.

Mar. 14, 1938—Mrs. L. C. Barzel, James LaRue, addition, $90.00.

Mar. 14, 1938—Mrs. Frances A. Kenner, Jos Labot, repairs, $250.00.

Hinds County Oil Test Near Edwards at Depth of 6,375 Feet

G. Jeffreys and E. R. Owens resumed drilling on their deep test well six miles and a half from Edwards, Miss., after letting the surface set for 72 hours.

Drilling at the Love and Gordon deep test well one and half miles from Edwards, has reached a depth of 6,375 feet. The drilling is being done very slowly and carefully and the formations are being studied closely.

Oil men continue to come to Edwards from Texas and Oklahoma. Also many scouts for oil companies are there.

While over sixty gas producing wells have been successfully brought in at Jackson and vicinity, no oil has yet been found. It is thought oil exists and the drilling is in anticipation of the realization of this hope.

EXCELLENT ARRAY OF PROGRAMS AT GULF THEATER, WAVELAND

"BlueBeard's Eighth Wife"
With Gary Cooper and Claudette Colbert for Sunday and Mon.

Reckless Living, Friday, July 29.

In the Blue Book today, in the headline tomorrow, such is the story of the world's biggest gamblers told in "Reckless Living." To be shown at the Gulf Friday. The story stars Robert Wilcox, Nan Grey and Jimmy Savo in a grand comedy romance.

Gangs of New York, Saturday 30.

At last it can be told. At last through the medium of the silver screen the story of New York's gangland can be revealed. Republic Pictures searched the files of Martin Mooney to find what is destined to be the outstanding crime story of the year which stars Charles Bickford. Also eighth chapter of "Zorro Rides Again" and $75 bank nite. Saturday, July 30.

BlueBeard's Eighth Wife.

Sunday-Monday, 31-1st.

Paramount's most able director, Ernst Lubitsch, scores again in the greatest comedy film of the season with two really great stars of the screen, Claudette Colbert and Gary Cooper. Mr. Cooper plays the part of a man who falls in love quite often, though is still somewhat blank on the tender subject of "women."

His amazing adventure with his eighth wife all comes about when he wants to buy a pair of sleepers, but only wants half of them. It is then that he meets another young lady of his dreams. And thus you are started on an hour's grand entertainment. See it Sunday and Monday.

"Happy Landin'" Tues.-Wed., 2-3.

Sonja Henie is back with us once again in a new show, a new story and her first lover, handsome Don Ameche, ably supported by Caesar Romero. Playing the part of a very popular band leader, Mr. Romero takes off with his manager for a flight to Europe, and (somewhat like Douglas Corrigan) gets off his course and lands in Norway where he meets and falls in love with adorable Sonja Henie, but who could not do so. Now it seems that she had been told by looking in the magic mirror, she would see her lover. Just as she faces the mirror, Caesar Romero walks into the room.

Well, after that, the girl could not be swayed from the fact that she was to marry the band leader. Even after Don Ameche succeeds in getting him away from the place, she follows to New York, and from there on where ever he went. The picture is full of good, clean comedy and there are several novel scenes. Also eighth chapter of "S. O. S. Coast Guard," Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thursday
Big Double Bill, "Yellow Cargo" and "Trouble in Texas."

"Why Our Church Should Educate the Parents."

Will be the subject of the sermon at Main street, Methodist Church, Sunday morning, July 31, at 11 o'clock a. m., by the pastor. The Rev. J. T. Sells, a forum presiding elder of Long Beach, Miss., will bring a gospel message at 8 o'clock evening.

Mr. A. Allison's Sunday School Class will have charge of the mid-week service, Wednesday, August 3, 8 o'clock p. m., as the pastor, the Rev. Andrew J. Boyles, will be in Pearlington conducting a revival for the Rev. E. E. Price, of Logtown. Members of the church and others, who are always cordially invited to attend all services, will take notice.

Thousands of passengers on the good ship "Better Living," after completing a Round-the-Home Cruise, surveying the possibilities of more day-by-day home enjoyment, are going to exclaim—"An electric refrigerator is our next investment."

We know that's true because 14,000 other passengers on the good ship have already made that investment.

A modern electric refrigerator will be an investment which you will be able to see, enjoy, and use in your own home every day in the year. Its dividends are not contingent upon what happens somewhere else but its returns of dependable food preservation, fine frozen desserts, ample ice, and general kitchen economy are paid hourly and daily.

Extra dividends on such an investment have just been declared in the form of the rate reduction effective July 1, 1938 which reduces the energy cost of home refrigeration, lights, and small appliances by about 10%.

PLANTATION TOURISTS' TOURS IS LATEST PLAN AT NATCHEZ TO GIVE PUBLIC OPPORTUNITY TO VISIT SECTION.

(NED SMITH in JACKSON NEWS.)

Just as Natchez pioneered the idea of annual Southern pilgrimages to attract tourists it is developing another plan to bring visitors from the North-East and West. This is the establishment of guest plantations.

The promoters of the first of the proposed projects are receiving the cooperation of the Illinois Central railroad.

Recently The Natchez Democrat directed the attention of the Illinois Central to the constantly growing number of tourists attracted to Natchez because of its distinctive Southern atmosphere and invited the railroad company to make a survey to explore the possibilities of guest plantations in the vicinity of Natchez to be conducted something along the lines of the "dude" ranches of the West. But instead of providing "synthetic" cowboys for atmosphere, present ante-bellum plantation life with a frock coated, goateed Mississippi colonel as host, a hoop skirted hostess, a black uncle as butler and commitments of fried chicken and mint julep.

It was pointed out that the Natchez Trace Parkway in the vicinity of Natchez now provides miles of picturesque bridge paths for horseback or carriage pilgrimages to the famous ante-bellum estates in and around Natchez and that from the standpoint of sport, fox hunting, bird hunting and duck hunting on the Mississippi river.

This week the survey for the Illinois Central was conducted by George M. Crowson, Chicago, assistant to the president of the railroad, and J. V. Lanigan, Chicago, passenger traffic manager.

After assembling extensive data, local capitalists and land owners were interviewed in order that full information might be presented to interests in the North and East.

Assurance was given local capitalists that should they decide to establish guest plantations independently that full cooperation would be given for the project.

FHA State Officer Asks Education to Aid Improved Housing.

T. D. Davis, Jackson, associate director of the state Federal Housing Administration office, called for a "comprehensive campaign of education to arouse a greater degree of civic pride, home consciousness, and conservation of values," in an address here.

"Thousands of properties in the state will be beyond repair unless immediate steps are taken to save these homes. The bad housing condition in Mississippi is not due to lack of available funds at low interest rates and easy payment terms. The F. H. A. has solved this problem.

"It appears that Governor White and the legislature will give further encouragement," Davis said.

HOLY CROSS ABBEY.

I see the Abbey dear once more,
The orchard fair and sweet;
I feel the joys felt once before,
Blue skies-joys at my feet.

I hear the birds at mating call,
In melody of song;
I see shadows in breezes fall,
In light that lingers long.

I feel sweet freedom on the air,
Weaving memories dear;
My heart is free from carping care,
Mid scenes that bright appear.

Here I will rest a little while,
And sweet my way in pray;
Sweet thoughts my poor heart will beguile,
Some love and joy to share.

POULTRY INDUSTRY IN NORTHEAST GULFPORT HAS 8,000 CAPACITY.

V. N. Howie Packing Co.,
Raises Large Volume of Chickens in Modern
Most Scientific Surroundings.

There is a thriving business in northeast Gulfport where 8,000 chickens are raised in the most sanitary surroundings and marketed continuously in Gulfport and along the Coast.

This business, the V. N. Howie Packing Co., uses the latest, most scientific methods for raising poultry, assuring highest quality. From the day the chick is a day old until it is several months old, ready for market, it is never allowed to touch ground. Methods employed assure the healthiest poultry, and here cleanliness is the watchword; one visit to the plant will show you.

A large refrigeration walk-in box keeps poultry and other meat products in excellent shape.

And in the words of Virgil Howie, owner, "Quality comes first and always in this business."

Assistant Commissioner Joe Keith of the Motor Vehicle Department, states that the last legislature enacted a gasoline inspection law which it is believed is second to none in the United States. Prior to the enactment of this law legislation was primarily toward the raising of revenue only, but the 1938 inspection law was enacted not only for raising revenue, but for the protection in keeping with the price paid. Mr. Keith points out also that at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, collections of the Motor Vehicle Department reached the huge figure of $11,392,426, or an increase over 1937 of over a half million dollars.

A hotel was on fire and the guests, gathered out in front, were watching the flames.

DEAR LITTLE VIOLETS.

Dear little violets so shy,
Nestling so coyly there;
Did you drop down right out the sky,
The joy of life to share?

Who fashioned sweet your purple star?
Fit vestments for a king;
Who breathed on you charms from afar,
In whisperings of Spring?

Dream on throughout the balmy day,
In rhapsody of Spring;
The birds will sing their rondelay,
Bringing love on the wing.

JOS. DI BENEDETTO OPENS HANDSOME NEW FOOD STORE ON BEACH

Business and New Building Industry and Enterprise—From Small Beginning.

Joseph di Benedetto opened the doors of his handsome and spacious new food store Monday morning located on a beach site not far from his former location and directly north of the L. & N. bridge crossing on Front street.

This store measuring approximately 40x80, was created from plans by Architect Edward Murtagh, of Bay St. Louis, now residing in New Orleans, and it is to his credit and genius that so splendid and complete a structure resulted and goes to his credit as the designer and is an outstanding contribution to the growth and advancement of the city of Bay St. Louis to the enterprise of Mr. Joseph di Benedetto and his family who well manifest their faith and confidence in the immediate future and later growth of the city.

This building and business, built up by Mr. and Mrs. di Benedetto from a humble beginning, is not only an acquisition to the city and coast but is a substantial testimonial of their enterprise and application to intelligent work and industry.

No attempt will be made here to describe the completeness of this strictly modern store building, refrigeration equipment, fitness and arrangement for convenience and for better expediting conduct of the business.

There are two large refrigerating chambers, one for meats exclusively and the other for vegetables and fruit. Each are of the size of a moderate size room. Three refrigerating motors are set in the basement of the building to operate as many refrigerating units on the first and main floor.

The front is flanked with massive sheets of plate glass and modern lighting store fixtures set off the interior scene. The building is constructed of hollow tile, covered with cement stucco and steel reinforced. The walls within are of sand-finished plaster and the ceiling of a new material, all of either fire-proof or of forest-burning type.

Forest Favre, well-known local brick and cement contractor, was builder of the place and gave the work taking an especial pride in so fine and representative building.

Mr. di Benedetto is entitled to whatever success might come his way and the wish is here expressed that he will reap that success to which his enterprise and ability to do richly entitle him.

The meat market is complete in every detail. Charles Carter, who has built up this branch of business and has been with the firm a number of years, is in charge of this department.

—J. Charles Jordy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stauffer Jordy has resigned his position with John E. Koerner Company, flour brokers in New Orleans, with whom he has been associated since his arrival in the South. After the first of the month he will be connected with the Creole Food Company, of which his father is president. Good luck, Charlie. We are glad to have such a fine young man in our community.

—Mrs. Despeau with her son, Edward, and having as her outing guest, Mrs. Bartholomew and Miss Gaspard, all of New Orleans visited the Bay during the week. Miss Gaspard, who is a relative of Mrs. Philo Gaspard, formerly resided at the Bay but has been away a good many years. She was amazed at the wonderful improvements and the many changes that have taken place. She was saddened by the absence of familiar faces.

—Miss Cecelia Osioinach entertained at a small dancing party Monday night at her home in Court street. It was a most enjoyable and happy event. Among those participating were Misses Bernice Garvey, Wilfred Drackett, Laurie Cooper, Ione Drackett, Bobbie Elliott, Charles Jordy, Tommy Gordon, Henry Osioinach, Jr. Delicious refreshments were served by June and Betty Osioinach, young sisters of the lovely hostess.

—Attorney Walter J. Gex, Jr., was accompanied to New Orleans during the early part of the week on advice of his local physician to determine cause of a persistent fever. He entered Touro Infirmary under care of specialists, for observation, before cause of his illness was determined and announced. Later—Mr. Gex's illness was diagnosed and declared as Malta fever and he will be treated accordingly, remaining at the hospital.

—The John W. Bryans have an attractive looking new Buick car, which was badly damaged when it collided one evening with another car parked, so that it had been on the wrong side of the street and without parking light burning. All parked cars should be compelled to burn parking lights. They appear to have been placed on all autos for some time past.

—The Grevenberg dwelling in Court street, furnished, is offered for sale and advertised in this issue of The Echo. Returning to New Orleans to reside permanently, this attractive and inviting home, splendidly located, is offered at a most tempting price and worthy of investigation. Now that the State of Mississippi is going to exempt homesteads from taxes this bargain for a home is made doubly attractive.

Waveland Activities

Personal and General News Notes of the Week From Sister City and Vicinity.

MRS. T. E. McGinnis of Covington is spending a while with Mr. and Mrs. Albert David. Mrs. McGinnis is Mr. David's sister.

Harold Zimmerman and Buddy Dufour went to St. Joe lighthouse and brought home ninety speckled trout.

Mrs. Irene De Cossas and Mrs. Margaret Mayewski and children are visiting Mrs. James Mocklin.

Mrs. Joe Quevas and Mrs. Artemise Quevas have gone to Beaumont to visit Mrs. R. Walker.

Dr. Walter Frick and his family have taken possession of their new home in the Nix subdivision.

Dr. J. J. Wymer and a party of friends from the Public service have gone to Pascagoula on his boat for a fishing trip. They are fishing near Horn and Round Islands. The doctor is the owner of Round Island.

Mrs. W. A. Glennon and children of New Orleans and her sister Mrs. Eddie J. Frank of Houston were guests of Miss Olive Curet last week.

Mrs. J. M. DeFraitas gave a birthday party for her granddaughter, Jacqueline Rauchon on her seventh birthday. It was a wonderful day for this little miss and many little friends were present to enjoy the day with her.

LOCAL CIVIC CLUB HAS COUNTY WORKER AS PROGRAM SPEAKER

Miss Louise Peters, Full-Time Demonstration Agent, Tells of Activities.

The Rotary Club presented as its guest speaker at its weekly Wednesday luncheon, held at Hotel Reed, Miss Louise Peters. Miss Peters is a home demonstration agent for Hancock county, and her talk embraced that work being sponsored by her department throughout the county. It has been quite a long time since Hancock county could boast of a full-time home demonstration agent, and through medium of the Extension Department of the Mississippi State College for Women, Miss Peters was appointed to the position, and has been here the past two months. She is paid partly by the state and partly by the county, and the work that she has in charge is the result of a project being nationally sponsored. This work does not comprise Bay St. Louis proper but only the rural section of the county. Most of it has chiefly to do with the organization of women's and girls' clubs. The formation of recreational clubs, sewing and canning clubs, and other domestic clubs are some of the results that have been accomplished through her successful organization. Miss Peters told members of the Rotary Club that she is constantly striving to better the home life of the county and the raising of its standards. Although Hancock county standards are high, we should, by no means, be content with this fact, and we should constantly strive for better standards, whereby our home life will be more enjoyable and the community, as a whole, prosper.

Miss Peters highly praised the work different groups of women have undertaken in furnishing hot lunches to school children. She hopes that in the near future, the vegetables used in these lunches, will be grown in the county by organized groups for that purpose. Her talk was well received by all the members of the Rotary Club, and that civic organization stands ready to back this county project, when cooperation is so desired.

KING'S DAUGHTERS HOSPITAL NOTES FOR THE WEEK.

Mrs. O. Haas, who resides at the Kiln, is a patient for a few days treatment.

Stanford Schultz, while out on a boat trip over the week-end with his father, was seriously burned. He is a patient at the hospital.

Five young men traveling on the highway out from New Orleans Sunday morning, en route to Gulfport, were side-swiped by a freight truck. Rodney Lee, of 317 Joseph Street, New Orleans, who was fatally injured, was given first aid treatment at the hospital before sent to New Orleans. Others injured and treated were Oliver Laurent, 734 Arabella Street and Walter Perrin, 6358 Annunciation street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Farrell announce the birth of another daughter, weighing 8 pounds 6 ounces.

Jerry Dickson, L. S. U. artillery man graduate, will attend the National Guardsmen Third Army maneuvers at Biloxi, July 31 to August 14, leaving here at the end of the week. This is a big event of national import and will be the biggest and most outstanding event of the year for the Gulf Coast, sponsored as it is by the federal government.

David Mollere and Joe Samuels purchased a pleasure boat, which is now at Cospolich shipyard, being overhauled. It will be finished for Sunday when they will have a fishing party with some of their intimate friends.

Mr. N. Pasco, engineer for the street improvement project was here Tuesday making final plans for the paving of streets.

Mr. Stephen Leech and his niece Miss Norma Leveau came in Tuesday to take his wife and baby back to the city. Mrs. Leech has been with her sister, Mrs. Hazel Lamer.

Fifteen years ago a birthday club was organized by Mrs. L. T. Boyd and several of her friends and everyone has been honored all thru the years by a birthday celebration. Mrs. A. Moseman who is now the guest of Mrs. Boyd had her birthday party Wednesday, and all members of the club were there to rejoice with her.

The canning centers here are proud of the successful work they are doing. Many thanks to the donor of three hampers of pears to the colored school canners. Also for some cash to the white center. Did you know there was a good deed club and that two good deeds were required of you daily? Well let one good deed be a donation for the lunch rooms; cash, jars or produce and do it now.

Donor of Carroll Ave. Aged 94 Years, dies At New Orleans Home.

Mrs. Stanley O. Thomas, daughter of the late John Carroll, cotton man of New Orleans died in that city Wednesday of this week at her residence, 2302 St. Charles avenue, New Orleans. She was 94 years old.

It was Mrs. Thomas who gave Carroll avenue to the city of Bay St. Louis and had it named for her father. This was some fifty years ago. He was owner of the Carroll plantation and dwelling. The place was divided into a subdivision and because of the width of the new street and desirability of the lots, high and of central location, took with public favor at the very outset. Today Carroll avenue is one of the most desirable streets in the city and carries a total assessed valuation far in excess of any other similar thoroughfare in Bay St. Louis. The Adam Lorch family owned and occupied the old Carroll property for some past forty years, principally as a summer home.

Recently it was purchased by Lucien M. Gex who occupies it as his family residence.

Mrs. Thomas was an philanthropist. As a traveler she circled the globe twice and made fourteen trips to Europe.

OBSERVING 21ST BIRTHDAY OF MISS JANE JUDEN.

Miss Jane Juden, who is attending State Teachers' College, at Hattiesburg, was home for the week-end, and was generally feted Saturday and Sunday on the occasion of her 21st birthday, the date of the anniversary, July 23.

For Miss Juden Mrs. Wallace Catchings gave an enjoyable coffee-breakfast party at her home in Court Place, to which the younger set was invited and participated.

That evening Miss Ethel Gex gave a steak-ry on the Gex Pier in compliment to the honoree of the day. To this were invited quite a number of young ladies and gentlemen and proved not only a novelty but an affair of much pleasure and lasting memory.

The next day a family dinner at the Juden home, at which a novel birthday cake was cut, was participated in by the family only and including Miss Gex. The cake was of large top surface, and represented a tennis court. Here was the net and players represented by small doll figures, dressed to represent certain players. All accessories for the court were specially made and carried out to the most minute detail in faithful manner. She was generously remembered with lovely gifts making this happy event.

Miss Juden is an only daughter of Mrs. Marie Louise Juden and the late Frank Juden, a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and will be a junior at the college she is attending. She is quite talented and her literary attainments show unusual ability. She is a devotee of athletics and fond of all outdoor sports.

JUNG FAMILY OF NEW ORLEANS AT THEIR BAY SUMMER HOME.

Mrs. L. Emmanuel Jung of New Orleans is spending this season as usual at her summer home at Bay St. Louis. She has as her guests for a part of the season her grand-daughter, Mrs. Edmond Merrill, Ed. Merrill, and their children, Edmond, Jr., and Lillian Jung Merrill. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill spend the greater part of each week-end cruising aboard their boat, the Baby Lil.

County Attorney Emile J. Gex, Subject Surgical Operation.

Emile J. Gex, county attorney and former representative from Hancock county to the legislature, underwent a surgical operation at Touro Infirmary, New Orleans, Wednesday morning. While on the operating table for a long while, it was reported, the patient rallied well from the ordeal and is doing as well as could be expected. Operation was for the removal of the spleen. Mr. Gex has been ill from time to time for the past two years. He has been first at Hotel Dieu and more lately at Touro for the past several weeks, under observation and later building up resistance when it was definitely decided, following debate, that the operation was imperative. He was given several blood transfusions.

The Globe Laundry Purchases Business Of Bay Laundry Company

The purchasing of the Bay Laundry, long established business in Hancock street, Bay St. Louis, was reported this week as a going concern by Mrs. L. Medina, owner and operator of the Globe Laundry, which she established some two years ago in Citizen street and of which she made a success. It has been announced the Globe business would be transferred over to the building of the new acquisition and operated and conducted as one from that location.

Blanchard Bros., of the Bay Laundry announced they had no immediate plans for the future, according to Mr. Zeph Blanchard, manager.

Scouts Given Outing On Mr. Camor's Boat

As a reward for exceptional progress in scout work during the past month ten girl scouts from Troop 1, six members of the Black Panther Patrol and four individual scouts, were entertained on Mr. "Bobby" Camor's yacht, Cavalier III, Saturday afternoon. The scouts, were named, Alice Vivian Evans, Annie Sue Ingram, Rose Ann Moore, Jessie Rita Olson, Mildred Otis, Cecelia Osioinach, Mary Virginia Terry, and Lillian Olson. The party was chaperoned by Captain and Mrs. Briscoe Goldman and Mrs. Gladys Chapman. Mr. Camor was the perfect host giving the scouts a most enjoyable evening.
